

CINE LATINO • SPRING 2010

Which Way Home?

by Rebecca Cammisa • 2009

Kevin is a canny, streetwise 14-year-old Honduran riding through Mexico on a freight train nicknamed "The Beast" with other unaccompanied children, all struggling to reach the U.S. to find both work to support their families and a better life. 90 minutes. English and Spanish with English subtitles.

Wednesday, February 10

Crude: The Real Price of Oil

by Joe Berlinger • 2009

30,000 rainforest dwellers file a lawsuit against Chevron-Texaco alleging decades of systematic contamination of one of the most biodiverse regions on earth. All sides of the high-stakes legal fight are represented in this documentary. 105 minutes. English and Spanish with English subtitles.

Wednesday, March 10

Sergio

by Greg Barker • 2009

Charismatic Brazilian diplomat Sergio Vieira de Mello spent his career with the U.N. trying to bring peace to global hot spots, finally being persuaded by Kofi Annan, Condoleezza Rice and Tony Blair to take the dangerous position of U.N. ambassador to Iraq in 2003. 94 minutes. English.

April, TBD

For locations and more information, please see the CLAS website at clas.berkeley.edu.

CENTER FOR LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES • UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, BERKELEY
CLAS.BERKELEY.EDU

Photo from Crude: The Real Price of Oil.